PRESIDENT MAY CALL EXTRA SESSION FOR CUBA'S BENEFIT. MAY SPLIT CONVENTION MINOR ENGAGEMENTS

Belief Grows That Congress Is Likely to Be Forced to Sit During the Hot Weather to Consider Administration Policy-Countervailing Duty on Sugar, Against German and Austrian Cartels, Suggested as a Compromise.

DEFINITE PROPOSITION DRAWN UP BY THE BEET SUGAR MEN.

The Republic Bureau, 18th St. and Pennsylvania Ave. Washington, June 21.—The President's reiteration of his determination to provide for a tariff reduction on Cuban imports has revived talk of an extra session. There are those who believe that, if the matter is not attended to at the present session of Congress the President will reassemble the lawmakers in extraordinary session this racity question is suggested by the beet sugar men to-day, and they are urging its adoption by the administration Senators as an easy and profitable way out of the dllemma. The idea is that the United States shall adopt a countervalling duty against the cartel of Germany and Austro-

The effect, it is claimed, would be to nimost immediately increase the price of raw sugar the world over about 1 cent a pound, and bring instant prosperity to the sugar growers not only of Cuba, but Louisiana, Hawaii and Porto Rico.

It is declared that the cartel-which has for its principal objects the raising of the price of sugar to the home consumer for the purpose of forming a fund to enable the sugar which is sold to a foreign consumer to be exported at a price below the cost of production, during the two years it has been in operation, has reduced the price of raw sugar in the world by L.II cents per pound.

There is a difference of opinion among experts as to what should be the amount of the proposed countervailing duty, but Professor Wiley, chief of the Bureau of Chemistry, in the Agricultural Department, says that whatever may be the amount, the benefit would go directly to every producer of raw sugar.

"It would go right into h's pocket," he "it could not go anywhere else." He thinks that the countervailing duty should be 51.15 per 100 pounds. Mr. Willett, a recognized authority on sugar statistics.

A definite proposition embodying the idea has been drawn up by the beet sugar men and was presented to the Republican conference this afternoon.

The administration Senators object to the plan on the ground that it might provoke retaliatory tariff legislation by Germany.

Unless signs full the Republican State onvention will be anything but duli despite the assertions of the Kerens leaders, who met in his office Thursday afternoon and announced that there would no action taken by the delegates on the United States senaatorship. Possibly there will be nothing done in the convention, but if there is not it will be on account of an overwhelming lack of votes by the anti-Kerens faction. The positive announcements of the bosses hat the convention will not so much as hear of the matter, is naturally being resented y some of the delegates who were in attendance at the conference. However, there are other counties in the First District, which are lined up on the other side. In Sheiby, resolutions were passed, not only indorsing Chairman Akins and Secretary Hitchcock, but also asking the State Convention to noise Colonel D. P. JUDGE SHERWOOD'S CANDIDACY. Friend Defends Him on Point of Age and Silver Question.

Speaking of the candidacy of Judge Thomas A. Sherwood for the Supreme Court bench, one of his friends yesterday commented upon some of the points which Judge Sherwood's opponents have sought to mine against him. "I notice," said the friend, "that the question of advanced age has been brought up, notwithstanding Judge Sherwood's age com-pares with that of all the Judges of the Supreme Court. Judge Sherwood was born in June, 1834, and Judge Brace just one year later. Judge Burgess was born in November, 1835, and Judge Valliant in June 1868 So it will be seen that Judge Sherwood is only four years older than the youngest member of the Supreme bench.

"When they urge against him that he is a 'gold bug,' they are clearly away from the facts," the friend continued. 'Judge Sherwood was one of the earniest champions of eliver, and one of the first to boidly rebuke Cleveiand at a time when most of the present silver leaders were with the former President. In a speech at the Mercantile Library Hall in October, 1888, Judge Sherwood sald on the money question:

"In reference to the free coinage of silver, the plank in relation to that subject is not in accord with the wholesale indosement with which the platform begins. President Cleveland stanus committed to the policy of destroying the bimetaillic standard. His position on this top'c has always been at variance with the views of Western Democrats. He is indorsed by some Western Democrats for his approval of the oleomargarine bill. There is a conflict of approbation and disapproval which is explained only by Mr. English's utterances, it is not necessary to agree with the President in order to give him a cordial indorsement. But family discipline must be maintained in our household. He must be admonished. If he takes the admonition kindly we will prolong his waning term four years more."

KERENS BOSSISM DENOUNCED. IS HUSBANDING HIS STRENGTH.

Exaggerated Reports of Physical Condition Have Been Circulated, but He Suffers From Old Complaint and Needs Rest

SPECIAL BY CABLE TO THE NEW YORK HERALD AND THE ST. LOUIS REPUBLIC London, June 29.—(Copyright, 1992.)—Thu King Edward is husbanding all his strength for the trying ordeal of the coming week undoubtedly accounts in part for his can celling engagements up to Monday.

In spite of the carefully worded builteling siven out at Windsor, some very afarming stories, stating that the King's health is most precarlous, have been circulated, but few of them have been printed.

These accounts have also been cabled to America and the Continent. Lest too much weight should be given these reports a careful inquiry has been made, and it can stated that there is no ground for the darmist rumors which allege that the King is seriously iti. At the same time it must not be thought that the slight chill and attack of humbago, given in the official bulletins as the cause of the King's halfs-position, fully explain why the King has gone into practical retirement for about a week.

The King this year had a return of a complaint which has given him slight rouble upon previous occasions. Evidences f this aliment developed during his Majes ly's cruise in the royal yacht during the Easter holidays. Prompt treatment and a period of absolute rest, with very little physical exertion, were efficacious.

Since the London season began, however, the King has been called upon to stand a great deal at courts and other functions, which rath - tried his strength and brought in a recurrence of the former attack.

The King, appreciating the fact that unless he took immediate rest the ordeal of the coronation might prove too severe strain upon his strength and aggravate the trouble, decided to cancel all engagements until those immediately connected with the coronation began, It is now pretty definitely decided that after the coronation the King will go for a cruise in the royal yacht, and, away from cares of state and social functions, will seek the rest which his system demands and excape from the necessity of standing for long periods of time.

NO FIREWORKS TILL FOURTH. Chief Kiely Issues Order to That Effect.

Chief of Police Kleiy has issued an order to the effect that there can be no fireworks display on the streets or in private yards until the Fourth of July. Premature celebrants will be arrested if they persist in violating the order and sent to the Police Courts. The order sent out yesterday morning reads:

To All Captains: Firecrackers and fireworks are being set off all over the city in violation of section 66, article 1, of the Municipal Code. Read this section to your command at roll call and instruct them to stop this dangerous practice, arresting all offenders and prosecuting them in police court. Respectfully.

MATHEW KIELY. Chief of Police.

Chief Klely's reason for issuing the order was because, in the last few days, several horses have been frightened by the explosion of firecrackers, torpedoes and toy cannons by children over the city, who have been anticipating independence Day. On that day the Chief feels that patriotism may be allowed to give vent to itself with periect safety when everybody is expecting it, but there is no need of celebrating every day between now and then.

With such an adjustment, the Rock Island has intimated through its officials in the conference with city authorities, World's Fair representatives and property owners, that it will sell its holdings at Union boulevard to the property owners of Westmoreland and Portland places. Those who have been in these conferences agree in saying that the key of the present problem is some arrangement by which the Rock Island may secure the parallel right-of-way up to the main entrance of the Fair and a continuation through the park into the city.

This arrangement would necessitate the rearrangement of the existing right-of-way of the Wabash across a part of the northern end of Forest Park. As related in The Republic of Friday, the proposal is that the roadbed of the Wabash be carried through the park on a subway from the point where it now makes its entrance at Union avenue to a point about where the Lindell pavilion stands, where a subway station for the delivery of passengers for the Fair could be made. The tracks, in this event, would then leave the park in the subway and take a course along the line of De Ballviere avenue and thence to rejoin the main line at or near Forsythe Junction. The Rock Island desires the same privileges and out of this demand arises the proposal for parallel tracks.

A World's Fair official has gone a step further in the statement that the great underground subway station of the Wabash and Rock Island would be located inside the Exposition site at its eastern end, near Lindell boulevard. This location would not affect the plan to carry the tracks of both roads in a serious value of the function with the main tracks of either road further to the north.

It has been learned that it is the intention the roadbed of the Wabash be carried the main tracks of either road further to the north.

It has been learned that it is the intention of the city authorities after the Exposition to extend the increased width of Lindell boulevard past the point where the main entrance to the Exposition would be situated to Washington University. The present plan contemplates only the widening of the boulevard to the gates of the Exposition. This would be done by taking fifteen feet from the Park View Realty Company's holding and fifteen feet from Forest Park for the distance between Union boulevard and De Ballviere avenue, where the Fair entrance is to be located.
